Client Authorization Form

I, _____ ,
(henceforth referred to as “the Client”) give PrivacyDuck.com (8721 Santa Monica Boulevard, Suite 441, West Hollywood, CA 90069 henceforth referred to as “PrivacyDuck”) and their employees authorization to work on my behalf and as a representative of myself for the express and extremely limited purpose of identifying and removing personal information from the Internet, including but not limited to people search sites, people search aggregation sites, consumer-grade background check sites, reverse email and telephone lookup sites, reverse address search sites, genealogy research sites, consumer-grade credit reporting sites, real estate evaluation sites, undesirable industry-specific contact database sites, and deep web/TOR-accessed people search and data mining sites. This is effective on ____/____/20__.

This includes creation of an anonymous email account, the completion of online forms, the writing and mailing of letters, dead link requests submission to search engines, and other correspondence as is required on your behalf in order to fully remove and delete personal information. The Client acknowledges that PrivacyDuck must work within the established timeframes and removal procedures of each company. PrivacyDuck is not responsible for delayed responses, website errors, or other factors which would delay removal from covered websites that are beyond the control of PrivacyDuck.

I hereby understand and agree that PrivacyDuck.com LLC nor its employees will at anytime share, sell, or otherwise make available any personal information that is supplied. PrivacyDuck.com and its employees will take every possible precaution and security measure for the protection of data, including agreement to never host personal client information on any company servers. PrivacyDuck.com agrees to only expose information as necessary to in-house, screened, trained employees working from the Los Angeles, California location. PrivacyDuck.com will only provide limited client information to people-search companies and sites as described above for the express and required purpose of verifying the personal information to be removed. At no time will PrivacyDuck.com expose any additional information to any such company beyond what they already display.
